

PRESS RELEASE

ON THE ROAD TO STOCKHOLM: ONE YEAR TO THE GLOBAL PUBLIC TRANSPORT SUMMIT 2019

Brussels, 12 June 2018

UITP has started the countdown to the Global Public Transport Summit 2019 (Stockholm, Sweden, 9-12 June 2019) with preparations in full swing for our biggest ever edition.

UITP's biennial Summit, organised in partnership with 2019 local host SL, is the only event that covers the challenges of urban mobility worldwide and brings together the international public transport community, mobility decision-makers and industry suppliers.

In June of next year, the industry will descend upon the Swedish capital to discuss the direction of the sector under our theme 'The Art of Public Transport'.

"UITP is delighted to be heading to Stockholm next June for the 2019 edition of the Global Public Transport Summit. Sweden is a wonderful country to visit and I know that the local event host SL will work alongside UITP to deliver a world-class Summit."

Pere Calvet
UITP President

The UITP Summit is the ideal event to interact with industry colleagues, exchange new ideas and discover the industry's latest innovations, products and solutions with a full programme of congress sessions and an outstanding exhibition.

The venue for the 2019 Summit is Stockholmsmässan, one of Europe's largest congress and exhibition centres.

With over 330 exhibitors expected, covering 40,000m² of exhibition space, the UITP Summit will see around 13,000 visitors cross the doors during our three-day event.

On course to host our biggest edition yet, we have over 70 per cent of the total exhibition space sold and 110 stands already booked.

"Planning for the UITP Summit 2019 in Stockholm is well under way and I know that the entire UITP team will work to deliver a world-class Summit in the Swedish capital. I look forward to seeing all of you in Stockholm as we discuss the latest developments and debate the future direction of our sector together."

Mohamed Mezghani
UITP Secretary General

Alongside our Exhibition, we will host a world-class Congress with a diverse programme full of industry-leading sessions and international speakers from the sector.

Our sessions will include transport ministers, mayors, business developers, industry CEOs and urban visionaries.

Meet the biggest names in public transport and witness the next big sectoral breakthrough – all under one roof!
