

François Vauxion, Bus fleet Purchase rolling stock Manager and Innovation Delegate at RATP, France

Francois Vauxion, 48, is graduate of the Ecole Spéciale de Mécanique et d'Electricité, School of engineer and Mastered of business administration Paris Sorbonne University.

After one year at the MET Headquarter as Air Force Meteorologist he joined RATP in 1995 to work on signaling maintenance system ATO/ATP.

From 1999 to 2010, he worked as a team manager in the electric engineering department for metro and RER signaling system.

He was offered in 2012 to move to the Infrastructure Department as signaling system buyer for civils and metro stations equipment's.

In 2006, he moved from railways unit to rolling stock as Bus buyer.

Francois Vauxion is appointed in 2016 Bus fleet Purchase rolling stock Manager and Innovation Delegate.