Christian de Strycker, Manager Accessibility, STIB, Brussels, Belgium

15 years ago Christian de Strycker was trained in accessibility within the associative sector. He provided there training to architects, contributed to new laws and strategic plans and gave advises to prime contractors.

In 2009 he joined the STIB as Manager Accessibility. Since then, his mission consists in accompanying the enterprise for the implementation of a coherent and voluntarist accessibility policy.

His role is particularly transversal. One after the other he has to propose a business strategy, to accompany its implementation, to give technical advises to colleagues, to care with specific customer requests, to organize and to moderate the policy dialogue with the associative sector and to represent the STIB outside its walls.

Day after day, he embodies his function and is now recognized as “Mister People with reduced mobility” all over the STIB.
