Robin Woods, Senior Consultant, Hampshire, UK

Robin is the world's most published transit map researcher-designer having travelled the world for 30 years visiting no less than 91 of the 114 city maps he has personally designed. His maps are published in travel guides in most European languages and have also translated into Chinese, Japanese and Russian. The maps are reproduced in a variety of different ways in over 1000 different products. His depth and wealth of experience in research and design in the field of transit mapping are a welcome addition to our team.
